MAY 19-JUNE 1, 1984

ADDRESS CORRECTION REQUESTED RUSH — TIME DATED

(Newsbriefs continued)

Research funds are now available from the Program for Analytical Cytology for investigators at UCSF and Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory (LLNL) to do work in analytical cytology, cell analysis, and cytometry.

The project should:
- be a collaboration between UCSF and LLNL investigators and involve research in the general field of analytical cytology,
- show scientific merit as a start-up or feasibility study of limited scope,
- have an educational component, and
- not have a budget exceeding $5,000.

Deadline for application is May 30. Interested investigators should contact Brian H. Mayall, MD, director of the Program for Analytical Cytology, at x5734 or 422-5672.

The Department of Psychiatry will change grand rounds from Wednesdays to Thursdays beginning in September. Grand rounds will continue to be held from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in HSW 301.

DEADLINE

Deadline for the next issue of Today & Tomorrow, covering the time period June 2-15, will be Tuesday, May 22, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News & Public Information Services, 532 Parnassus Ave., Rm. 300, x1541 or x2557.

Seven hundred sixty-four students will receive degrees at UCSF commencement exercises this spring.

- The School of Dentistry will award degrees to 105 dental and 18 dental hygiene students on Saturday, June 9, at 4 p.m. in the Marin Civic Center, and some 40 students will receive awards at the school's annual awards ceremony on Wednesday, May 23, at 4 p.m. in the postgraduate auditorium, Room C 701.
- The School of Medicine will award 147 MDs, 49 PhDs, 16 master's, and three Doctor of Mental Health degrees at ceremonies on Saturday, May 26, at 2 p.m. in Zellerbach Auditorium, UC-Berkeley.

The top honor—the Gold-Headed Cane—will be presented by Charles T. Carman, '51, to one of 3 students: Kent Mark-Josef Adler, Connie Celum, or Dwight Gary Gilliland. The two runners-up will be inducted into the Gold-Headed Cane Society. In addition, two faculty will be made honorary members in the Society for their outstanding contributions to patient care and teaching—Donald R. Smith, professor emeritus of urology, and Minnie B. Goldberg, clinical professor emeritus of medicine.

The night before the commencement Donald W. Seldin, MD, professor and chair of medicine at the University of Texas Medical School, will deliver the William J. Kerr Gold-Headed Cane Lecture, entitled "Concept of a Person," at the Society's banquet at the Mark Hopkins Hotel.

- The Department of Psychiatry will hold graduation ceremonies on Friday, June 8, in Cole Hall at 3 p.m., which will be followed by a reception in the Faculty/Alumni House. Fifty-three graduates will receive certificates, including: 21 residents in psychiatry, 5 fellows in child psychiatry, 3 DMH, 2 fellows in clinical psychology, 4 postdoctoral fellows in clinical psychology, 4 postdoctoral fellows in geriatric mental health, 9 Doctors of Philosophy in psychology, and 5 Doctors of Philosophy in human development and aging.

A graduation party for all psychiatry graduates will be held Saturday, June 9, from 8 p.m. to midnight at the Fort Mason Officers' Club. Tickets are $15

Fourteen School of Pharmacy faculty and teaching assistants have been singled out as outstanding teachers, and in recognition of their skills were presented with the School's annual Long Foundation Awards for Excellence in Teaching at a convocation on Friday, May 11.

The awards covered the 1983-84 and 1982-83 academic years. For each academic year, $4,000 is divided among seven people—three full-time faculty, one volunteer faculty member, and three teaching assistants.

Recipients of the 1983-84 Long Awards were: full-time faculty Joel J. Elias, PhD, professor, anatomy; Kathleen M. Giacomini, PhD, assistant professor, pharmacy, pharmacology, and pharmaceutical chemistry; Sam K. Shimomura, PharmD, associate clinical professor and vice chair, Division of Clinical Pharmacy; volunteer faculty David S. Tatro, PharmD, assistant clinical professor, pharmacy; and teaching assistants Susan Mary Aldritt and Bruce A. Firestone, both graduate students, pharmaceutical chemistry; and second-year pharmacy resident Gene D. Mason, PharmD.

Recipients of the 1982-83 Long Awards were: full-time faculty Alan Burkhalter, PhD, professor, pharmacology; Kenneth W. Lem, PharmD, adjunct lecturer, pharmacy, assistant dean, external programs, and coordinator, Division of Continuing Education in Pharmacy; C. C. Wang, PhD, professor, pharmaceutical chemistry and chemistry; volunteer faculty Raffi Ishkhan Simonian, PharmD, assistant clinical professor, pharmacy; and teaching assistants Elizabeth Ann Komives and Mark D. Watanabe, PharmD, both graduate students, pharmaceutical chemistry; and John F. Flaherty, PharmD, second-year fellow, infectious disease.

The teaching awards were set up by Bay Area businessman and philanthropist Joseph M. Long to foster effective teaching at UCSF, and are awarded annually through the Joseph M. Long

The Florence Nightingale Award, given to the outstanding student in the BNS group, and the Outstanding Master of Science and Distinguished Dissertation awards will be presented. Five faculty members will receive outstanding teaching awards.
- The School of Pharmacy will award 115 Doctor of Pharmacy degrees and 13 PhDs in pharmaceutical chemistry during ceremonies on Saturday, June 23, at 1 p.m. in Zellerbach Auditorium, UC-Berkeley.

Graduating students from all four schools are invited to the Dean's Reception for Graduates on Friday, June 1, from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Faculty/Alumni House.

Physiologist and psychiatrist Eric R. Kandel, MD, will present this year's Smith, Kline and French Lectures on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 29 and 30, at 4 p.m. in Cole Hall. His topics are: "Studies on the Molecular Biology of Simple Forms of Learning in Aplysia," on May 29, and "Cellular Interrelationships between Sensitization and Classical Conditioning," on May 30.

A faculty member at the Center for Neurobiology and Behavior at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York, Kandel is known for his work on the neurobiology of learning and memory, for which he won the 1977 Hofheimer Award for Research from the American Psychiatric Association and the 1981 Karl Spencer Lashley Award from the American Philosophical Society. Kandel also has won the Dickson Prize in Biology and Medicine from the University of Pittsburgh and the New York Academy of Sciences Award in Biological and Medical Sciences, both in 1982.

Held each year since 1976, the Smith, Kline and French Lectures are sponsored jointly by the Department of Biochemistry and Biophysics and the Smith, Kline and French Laboratories, and feature noted international scientists.

Foundation. A member of the UCSF Board of Overseers, Long is a major benefactor to the campus whose donations have helped modernize Moffitt Hospital and build the new Long Hospital.

Also honored at the convocation were graduating students Scott Fields, Julio Lopez, and Karen Hamai with the Dean's Award for Academic Excellence.

Geneticist Yuet Wai Kan, MD, will present the 27th Faculty Research Lecture on Thursday, May 24, at 4 p.m. in Cole Hall. His topic will be "Thalassemia: The Journey from Molecules to Man." The lecture is the highest honor the UCSF faculty can bestow on one of its members.

A UCSF professor of medicine, laboratory medicine, biochemistry and biophysics and head of the Division of Genetics and Molecular Hematology, Kan is known for his contributions to the understanding of the molecular defects in two genetic abnormalities involving red blood cells, sickle-cell anemia, and thalassemia, and was able to apply his findings to the detection in utero of these inherited blood disorders.

An investigator of the Howard Hughes Medical Institute, Kan was appointed in October 1983 to the newly established UCSF Louis K. Diamond Chair in Hematology.

The allocation system of the United Way of the Bay Area has been reorganized to include more input from local counties.

Eugene S. Salazar, UCSF associate dean of students, Health Sciences Special Services Program, is chair of the Allocations Committee. "This reorganization will reflect an increase in community participation and governance of the allocations process," Salazar said.

The realignment, which will allow an expanded presence for United Way in each Bay Area county and a strengthened role for the agency as a convener of community problem-solving efforts, includes six groups based on categories of service, each organized into 39 volunteer teams, representing all five Bay Area counties, with emphasis on local county volunteer participation.

Members of the UC Retirement System (UCRS) will have the opportunity to vote for a member of the UCRS Board in May and June. The board advises the President in the administration of the University's retirement system. The election will fill one of two positions representing UCSF members who are not members of the Academic Senate. The person elected will serve a four-year term beginning in July.

The 15 candidates, each nominated by petition of at least 50 non-Senate UCRS members, are: Roy Morrison, administrative analyst, School of Medicine Dean's Office, SFGH; Howard Eberhart and Frank Giunta, UC-Berkeley; M. Terry Hartman, UCSD; Richard Hickman, Lawrence Livermore Lab; Kathie Johnson, Office of the President; Grace Lawson (incumbent), Thomas Lindholtz, and Alfred Lewis, UCD; Nancy Smarsh, UCD Medical Center; Kent McArthur, Lawrence Berkeley Lab; Thomas McClure and Betty Grimm, UCI; Jacob Padilla, Hastings College of Law; and Darlene Powers, UCR.

Ballots and information on the election and candidates are being mailed first-class to the home addresses of all non-Academic Senate UCRS members. Ballots must be returned to the Retirement System Office by June 30 to be valid.

Any non-Senate UCRS member who does not receive a ballot by June 15 should write to: University Benefits Program Office, 2120 University Avenue, Berkeley, CA 94720, or call 644-4115.

For the last five years Mexico has had an innovative health care system for the rural poor (COPLAMAR), which includes 60 hospitals and 3,000 clinics providing primary care to Mexico's outlying areas.

Eight of the Mexican professionals responsible for this program will explain how it operates as well as the current status of Mexican health care at an international conference on Monday and Tuesday, June 4 and 5, in Toland Hall.

The conference is sponsored by the Division of Family and Community Medicine and the Department of Epidemiology and International Health, under a grant from UC's Consortium on Mexico and the US (UC-MEXUS).

Program chairs are Robert Drickey, MD, MPH, assistant professor; Robert Goldsmith, MD, MPH, professor; and David J. Sanchez, Jr., PhD, associate professor. Following a welcome and introduction by Vice Chancellor David Ramsay and Dean Rudi Schmid, several UCSF international health experts will analyze, compare, and contrast the COPLAMAR program with other systems of health care to low-income people in developed and less developed countries.

The public is invited to attend the conference free of charge. CME credit is available for $10. For further information call x1872.

The School of Medicine Annual Homecoming will be held on Saturday, May 19, in Cole Hall. Activities will begin at 10 a.m. Morning scientific presentations will be:

- "Liver Transplantation: What Does the Future Hold?" Rudi Schmid, MD, dean of the School of Medicine.
- "Chemical Warfare: How Neurophils Kill with Oxygen." Distinguished Visiting Faculty Bernard M. Babior, MD, '59, professor of medicine, Tufts University.
- "Medical Education for the 21st Century—The GPEP Enigma." Distinguished Faculty Speaker Lloyd H. Smith, Jr., MD, chair of the Department of Medicine.

As part of the afternoon program, some 20 alumni and faculty, including Alumnus of the Year Charles Carman, MD, '51, will present brief presentations of "memorable moments with the class of 1959."

The Alumni Banquet will be held that evening at the St. Francis Hotel, with presentation of the Charlotte Baer Memorial Clinical Faculty Award to John J. Sampson, MD, clinical professor of medicine.

The UCSF Faculty Wives Association presented a $15,000 check to Vice Chancellor David Ramsay for the Faculty Wives Student Loan Fund at their annual spring luncheon on May 2. The fund helps needy students in each of the four professional schools and the Graduate Division. Established in 1970, the fund now exceeds $110,000.

The annual UCSF Medical Staff Meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 29, at 5:30 p.m. in the Moffitt Cafeteria, San Francisco Room. One of the agenda items will be the installation of the new medical staff president, William A. Atchley, MD, clinical professor of medicine, who will assume the post officially on July 1. For further information call x1401.

Want to get rid of those old toys, kids' clothes, skis, books, records, tools, etc. that are cluttering your closets, and help the UCSF Child Care/Study Center at the same time? The center is planning a rummage sale on Saturday, June 2, and needs used but saleable merchandise. Donations will be accepted until Tuesday, May 29. To make arrangements call x1616.

Applications are now being accepted for Fulbright Scholar Awards. Sponsored by The Council for International Exchange of Scholars, the awards cover periods of two to ten months and are for university lecturing and postdoctoral research abroad in all academic fields.

Application deadline for awards to Australasia, India, Latin America, and the Caribbean is June 15; for Africa, Asia (except India), Europe, and the Middle East, September 15. For further information and applications contact the Graduate Division, Room S 140, or call x1520.
